Itaconix enters into a licence and assignment agreement with tremco-illbruck Limited for use of non-core polymers in construction sealants

Itaconix is pleased to announce it has licensed certain non-core polymer assets developed under a joint development agreement to tremco illbruck Limited (tremco illbruck), an RPM International Inc. company.

Under the terms of the deal, tremco-illbruck will acquire the rights to certain Itaconix polymer technology to improve the performance of its construction sealant products. As consideration for the licence and assignment, tremco-illbruck will make royalty payments to Itaconix on net sales of derived products incorporating Itaconix technology.

Dr. Kevin Matthews, CEO of Itaconix, commented: “tremco-illbruck has indicated that it expects to launch products containing Itaconix’s technology within 12 months and we anticipate receiving a modest income in 2018.”
